

When Elijah was adopted, he had a special challenge. His feet were completely turned in forcing him to walk on his ankles. Wanting the best outcome possible for Elijah, his family found a doctor that specialized in the treatment of Club Feet. The treatment required the patient to undergo a series of castings to correct the feet without the complications of surgery. With two other children at home and working parents, transportation was a challenge.

LifeLine Pilots was able to facilitate the numerous trips from Cincinnati, Ohio to Iowa City, Iowa so Elijah's feet could be casted as necessary with his growth. Since May of 2007, Elijah has become a frequent flyer by being the recipient of 40 flights. With his easy smile and warm personality, Elijah has become a favorite passenger of many volunteer pilots. LifeLine Pilots is pleased to have had the opportunity to be a part of Elijah's successful treatment.
